

VOLUNTEER COUNSELLORS WANTED

Time to Talk—Reading is a free confidential Counselling service available to all young people in Reading aged 11 –19 (up to 25 years for young people with special needs).

We are recruiting for a team of volunteer counsellors to work with us. We welcome enquiries from qualified counsellors and students in the latter stages of their training looking for a placement. We require some volunteers to work within schools and there is also the opportunity to get additional counselling hours with adult clients.

All our counsellors are chosen carefully, DBS checked and trained in areas such as Child Protection to work effectively with young people. We provide excellent support and are members of BACP (British Association of Counselling and Psychotherapy) and abide by their code of practice.

We have extensive knowledge and experience in counselling. Counselling provides a safe place for young people to talk through their concerns and problems, to feel listened to, with no judgement, to be respected and encouraged.
